BREED THEATER.

"The Cowbey Lover," Heads Big Bill

Another big audience greeted the ex-cellent bill at the Breed last evening and was rewarded with one of the and was rewarded with one of the choicest motion picture programmes desired. The thrilling western story entitled A Cowboy Lover, commands a great deal of attention and admiration, inasmuch as the great story, telling of a young eastern girl, who is betrothed to a young man of the same town, leaves for the west for a pleasure trip, and while there becomes infatuated with the bizarre and breezy life of the west, and engages herself fatuated with the bizarre and breezy life of the west, and engages herself to one of the cowboys. Meanwhile, her eastern lover becomes anxious, and goes out west to the ranch to find her. He becomes abusive while questioning her and to quiet him she premises to wed him at once, and while in the auto being driven to the parson's, she gives a secret sign to her cowboy lover, who passes, and he returns, smatching her bodily from the auto and carrying her on horseback to the home of the parson, where a hurried ceremony takes place, and the young brids is at the gate to meet her pursuers, and receive their congratulations.

The terrific riding over the rough roads, and the tremendous scene in roads, and the tremendous scene in which the abduction takes place com-pel the audience to hold their breath

The great story of Billy, the veteran fire horse, entertains and thrills the audiences and wins the admiration of all lovers of horseflesh.

A distinct innovation at the Breed today is Miss Elsie Walker, in a combination spotlight and illustrated song, the first ever rhown in this city. She wins much hearty applause.

Brief State

Torrington.—Mrs. Charles Battell Loomis and family are moving into the house at 259 South Main street.

Stamford.—Chief of Police Brennan has given notice that no more licenses will be issued for boxing exhibitions

Waterbury.—John Mitchell, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, is coming to Waterbury if the dates can be arranged satisfactorily.

East Hampton.—Alfred H. Dunham arrived home from Nome, Alaska, to spend Thanksgiving with his aged mother and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Dun-

Suffield.—A 65-pound panther, the first caught in this section in many years, was shot by Homer Austin, near his home in the Hastings Hill dis-

Middletown.—There were 36 deaths in Middletown during November, or exactly the same number as last year for the same month. Sixteen of them occurred at the asylum for the insane.

New Haven.—Mrs. Emmeline Pank-hurst, the English suffragette leader, will return to her work in England earlier than she expected and will be unable to fill her New Haven engage-ment in January.

Clinton.—Mrs. Phoebe Elliott, who spent the summer at her summer home in Clinton and who is 92 years old, went to New Haven by automobile last week and will spend the winter with her son, Phoebe Elliott.

Hartford.— Bishop Chauncey B. Brewster recently dedicated the new chapel of the Resurrection in the northeast corner of Trinity church. The chapel is in honor of Mrs. Henry S. Robinson and is given by her parents, her husband and her children.

Branford. - Timothy J. McCarthy's proposal for a ten years' lease of suitable quarters for the postoffice at Branford has been accepted. He will erect a building at the corner of Main street and Hillside avenue. The building is to be ready for occupancy April 1, 1912.

Bridgeport.—Three prominent Bridge-port druggists were in the Bridgeport city court last week for violation of the Sunday liquor law. Judge Carl Foster discharged them and said he could not see his way clear to convict any drug-gist on the evidence given by hired detectives who were paid to secure such evidence.

HOW THE GATES CAME AJAR.

Twas whispered one morning is heaven.

How the little white angel May Set ever beside the portal Sorrowing all the day.

How she said to the stately warden—lis of the golden bar—on, angel, sweet angel I pray you.

Let the beautiful gates ajar—Only a little, I pray you.

Let the heavenly gates ajar!

can hear my dear mother there weeping;
She is lovery; she cannot see
A gimmer of light in the darkness
Where the gates closed after me.
One gleam of the golden spiendor,
O, warden! would shine so far."
But the angel, he whispered: "I dare not
Let the beautiful gates sjar."
Spoke low as he answered: "I dare not
Let the beautiful gates sjar!"

Then up rose Mary, the blessed;
Sweet Mary, the mother of Christ;
Her haml on the hand of the angel
She hid, and her touch sufficed.
Then turned was the key in the portal,
Fell ringing the golden bar;
And hel in the little child's ingers
Stood the beautiful gates alar!
And he in the child's angel fingers
Stood the heavenly gates alar!

"And this key for no further using
To my biessed Son shall be given,"
Said Mary, the mother of Jesus,
Tenderent heart in heaven,
Now, never a sad-eyed mother
But may catch the glory afar,
Since safe in the Lord Christ's bosom
Are the keys of the gates ajar,
Safe hid in the dear Christs bosom,
And the gates forever ajar!
